Track, Community Officials Set Night Racing Discussion

By MICHAEL CRAB

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Richard Earl and his associates at Arlington Park will meet Tuesday with officials of Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Palatine to discuss solutions to problems which might arise from the community in event the state approves the park's plan for night racing in 1968. The meeting will be held at the Howard Hotel.

Arlington Park's petition for running 50 per cent of the 1968 thoroughbred race at night was considered Sunday by the Illinois Racing Board. The meeting was held at the Howard Hotel.

ROY BRESLER, Arlington Heights village trustee, told the board that in his opinion Arlington Park has obligations to the community. "In the past the park has always cooperated with the village in solving the problems which have arisen in the area," Bressler said.

THE ILLINOIS RACING BOARD and Gov. Otto Kerner have been interested in experimenting with night racing at Arlington Park. The board has been interested in experimenting with night racing at Arlington Park.

NO OFFICIALS of Palatine or Rolling Meadows attended the hearing. Mayor Jack Moody of Palatine, who has been interested in the state's plan to allow night racing at Arlington Park, was not present.

Hearing Set On Triangle Sewer Plan
A formal public hearing on storm sewers for the Kishwaukee and Central River Triangle has been scheduled by the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements to Jan. 11.

The proposed sewer would drain the Central and Kishwaukee triangles into the south and connect to a storm sewer in Mayfield.

The Board members decided to continue the hearing to further information on the plan could be obtained.

Good Patterns of I.R. Dryden, Arlington Heights, has joined the Adams Insurance Co. as a sales representative in the area of the 17th Street, Mt. Prospect, Ill.

Bomb Burns Boy County Council to Discuss List of First Projects

James Mueller, 8, 3310 Owl Dr., was taken to the Rolling Meadows Police station with severe burns on his face, head and neck yesterday morning. He was according to police, victim of a home-bombing explosion.

Earl Coppenhaver, 3400 Owl Dr., located the kitchen window and saw the boy with his coat and hat. He removed the burning coat and took the boy to a neighboring nurse, Mrs. William Barnett, 3402 Owl Dr., after having tried unsuccessfully to contact the boy's parents, she said.

The police arrested the boy's father, Charles Smith, 3410 Owl Dr., and released him after a hearing. He was charged with second and third degree burns and with tampering with evidence.

Investigation police said they learned that James and two other boys were making a bomb in a garage with gas and oil. They caught James one afternoon, according to the police, after the police said.

Both questions have been referred to the board of directors which will report at the meeting Wednesday. Methods of financing will be reported on by Mayor Daniel Coughlin of Mount Prospect.

The committee on services which the council might provide is headed by Mayor John G. Woods of Arlington Heights. The Woods committee met Friday and listed more than 10 services. Members of the council are selecting five which they regard as having the most impact.

The project led by the Woods committee include such as disease control, land use planning, flood control, water supply, refuse disposal, school district reorganization, co-operative purchasing, joint use of computers, air pollution, water pollution, health and sanitation, library needs, legislation at local, county and state levels, billboard control, juvenile warning system.

Track Request Opposed

his department if the night racing is granted.

"Night racing wouldn't cause any more problems for us," the chief said.

The state police said they pay for the track and as long as they pay for it they can have the extra duty police officers. It wouldn't make that much difference if it was day or night. Now most of the traffic comes over the toll roads," Caddowwood said.

MRS. BARBARA Vidmar of 1322 S. Walnut, said she was not in favor of night racing for the racing season.

"The village gets no revenue from it. If the village gets all the problems they should get something from it. I think the village trustees should try to stop it," she said.

Village officials however were quick to point out that the ultimate decision rests with the Illinois Racing Board.

"I REQUESTED Jack

Segal to secure an extension of time for us to study the issue," the chief said.

"I think we should study all the implications of this matter. As always, we'll do whatever we can to enhance the interests of the citizens in this matter but I think we have to distinguish the impossible from the possible," Woods said.

"I will have to invent general restrictions on lights, traffic and hours and direction of that sort. Whether or not it will be possible to prevent the racing Board from granting this is a matter of conjecture. I think a clear majority of them are in favor of it. We learned of the special meeting Saturday at the last minute and I think we moved with swiftness to secure additional time to consider the problem," he said.

TRUSTEE Roy Bressler also attended the Saturday meeting of the racing board. I would estimate the village

Night Racing Talks Set

instituted as a major track to the United States. It could mark the beginning of a shift in the track sport as sweeping as the swing of major league baseball from day to night.

OWNERS OF The horses and the stable generally are opposed to holding night races at the major tracks. The conditioning program for the horses is disrupted by the shift in daylight throughout the summer. To let the horse work in the coolest part of the day, night racing would lengthen the day at the stable from 10 to 12 hours to 14 to 16 hours.

The problems would be compounded for the stable owner who is to be placed in a position of having horses from his schedule to another as they shift from day to night races.

Although no specific days were designated for night racing in the Arlington Park petition, the night race would undoubtedly be run on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Experience at other tracks has shown that the public is much more interested in attending night races than a non-work day follows. Thursday evening is next to the usual first work day of the week.

Drum and Bugle Scholarships

A $10,000 scholarship fund has been donated to the Illinois Drum and Bugle Corps. As by Paul Powell, Illinois secretary of state.

Scholarships of $250 each are to be awarded annually to one girl and one boy selected from a drum and bugle corps affiliated with the association.

ARLINGTON PARK officials pointed out Saturday that the park has always done everything possible to minimize the traffic inconvenience to the people of Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows and Palatine. The fiscal stress was cited as an example. But it has been developed into a high traffic carrying thoroughfare from Wolf Road west along the south side of Arlington Park to the 53 Expressway and the Northwest Tollway. Arlington Park contributed to the improvement, perhaps 50 percent or more of the total, which is to move over the Northwest Highway through Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine, is now routed over the 53 Expressway and moved into the fiscal stress area, avoiding all residential neighborhoods in the area.

"No, it isn't true that I'm a woman, coaching that actor who is in the area and is using my name. Although some articles say he's coaching me."

"What I did was take a week off to visit a few places I've heard so much about. For example, I went up to New York 67 and looked over some of the exhibit."

"That I thought Expo 67 is closed."

"Well it is, but now's the time to visit. Once you come to it, you'll find it's very interesting. No crowds, no limitations in line, no exorbitant prices. If it is possible the exhibit, in my opinion, is the most important thing that improves everyone is to say you've been there."

"No, no, no, no, that's not what I could do. I'm not sure about what they say there."

"And I bet the places to visit are the places that are the lowest priced as well."

"I don't know. I stayed in the camping spots along the way."

Belle Chords Busy Songsters

The Belle Chords, a chorus of lady burlesque singers, will have a full month in December with their schedule of singings and parties. The group will hold a Christmas dinner tomorrow at Western's Restaurant in Wheeling at which there will be an exchange of gift bags, entertainment by chorus members and, of course, burlesque harmony singing. On Sunday, Dec. 10, the chorus, under the direction of Miss Phyllis Hager, will entertain members of the Chicago Grandmother Club at the Palmer House. On Wednesday, December 13, they will perform at the Altar and Rosary Society Christmas party at the Saint Mary's of the Sea Church in Chicago. Any women interested in learning about the activities of the chorus should call Mrs. Stanley Bahr at CL 3-1344 or Mrs. Cook O'Brien at CL 5-5435.

Gift Wrapping Party

A delightful Christmas gift purchased by the Alpha Gamma Delta Northern Suburban Alumnae Club for an "adopted" family will be wrapped at their next meeting. The Club will meet at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Robert O. Alker, 23 Schuylkill Rd., Schaumburg. Club members have chosen appropriate gifts for members of their family and for the Chicago Easter Seal Society.

MEMO AT the meeting will be an exchange of 10 minutes handwritten notes and baked goods.

Co-hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Lynne Lemick, Rolling Meadows; Mrs. Scott Lunda, Schaumburg; Mrs. John Decker, Elk Grove Village.

Further information may be secured by calling Mrs. Lawrence Bartlett at HE 9-0400.

Sweet Holiday Feasting

BY MARILYN HELPERS

Greet your holiday guests with a spectacular cake from Germany's Black Forest served with an air of warm hospitality.

This four layered chocolate Black Forest Torte stands as majestically on your holiday table as the tightly packed rows of silver fir trees in the 100 mile Black Forest (Schwarzwald) mountain range in Germany—a region of resorts, wood carvers and legendary tourism. THE FIRST LAYER of this adaptation of a German classic is spread with chocolate-almond frosting, the second with whipped cream, and the same round combination all round for the other two layers. Delectable flaked coconut adds its touch to the top of the torte. A wreath of candied cherries and candied citron leaves bring a festive touch to the holiday cake.

This cake is made with a soft-type margarine containing liquid safflower oil that gives a fresh, buttery flavor. The soft-type margarine may be blended right from the refrigerator and melts at once in melted chocolate.

The Black Forest Torte freezes beautifully; it's a good idea to make one on an afternoon when you have some time. Just wrap it well in saran food wrap and the torte will keep in the freezer until it's time for the holiday unveiling.

Chocolate Cherry Chewies are great with coffee for the grownups, with milk for the youngsters or as a neighborly present, gift wrapped in sparkling food wrap. They may also be made ahead of time and stored in the freezer for unexpected holiday guests.

Black Forest Torte--Star of the Holiday Season

1½ cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1½ cups sugar
1½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ cup soft-type margarine containing liquid safflower oil
1½ cups water
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 squares (1 ounce each) unsweetened chocolate melted and cooled

3 eggs
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Melt chocolate and set aside to cool. Measure flour, sugar, soda, salt, baking powder, soft-type margarine; water and vanilla into large mixing bowl. Add cooled melted chocolate. Beat at low speed to blend, then beat 2 minutes at medium speed, scraping sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Add eggs; beat 2 minutes longer. Brush sides and bottom of four 9-inch layer cake pans with soft-type margarine (2 layers may be baked at a time while the remaining batter stands, if desired.) Pour ¼ of batter (little over 1 cup) into each pan. Layer will be thin. Bake in 350-degree oven 17 to 20 minutes, until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool slightly and remove from pans. Cool completely.

TORTE FILLING, TOPPING, AND GARNISH

1½ packages (4 ounces each) sweet cooking chocolate
¾ cup soft-type margarine containing liquid safflower oil
¼ cup chopped toasted almonds
2 cups heavy cream
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Flaked coconut
Candied cherries and candied green citron

Melt sweet cooking chocolate over hot water. Cool. Blend in soft-type margarine and almonds. Whip cream with sugar and vanilla until stiff; do not overbeat. Place bottom layer on serving plate. Spread with half of chocolate mixture. Add second layer and half of whipped cream. Repeat layers, having whipped cream on top. Do not frost sides. Sprinkle coconut over top. Garnish with cherries and candied green citron cut in leaf shapes. Cover with saran food wrap and refrigerate until ready to serve. Torte may be frozen. Freeze until topping is set, then wrap in saran food wrap and store in freezer for as long as 2 weeks. Makes 1 large cake (16 servings).

Here's How to Make the Roses

The rose decorations you see in the picture are fun to make, an inexpensive way to deck your home for the holidays. You will need transparent saran film, red tissue, #7 wire cut 6-inches long, green crepe paper, green floral tape.

To make the roses: cut 30-inch x 2½-inch strips of red tissue, cutting straight down the same edge every 2½-inches. Fold straight edge ¼-inch deep. Tear off 5-inch strips of saran film and spread out on flat surface. Place strip of colored tissue one one-half of saran strip. Fold remaining half of saran strip over tissue, keeping folded edge at top.

Form a "shepherd's crook" by bending back one end of the 6-inch wire about an inch. Hook the crook diagonally over the left side of strip about 1½-inches from end. Pick up scalloped points at the bottom and wind slowly, tightening at base of rose to the last scallop. Fold last scallop back diagonally until saran film adheres and wind base of rose to tighten.

Pull the hook down through the center; the hook will catch in the paper and make a firm rose.

Cut green crepe paper into strips 2-inches x 1½-inches; cut three points into the length to simulate a rose sepal, the green section at the base of a rose. Wind the sepal around the bottom of the rose, tighten and fasten with green floral tape, pulling wire down to tighten as you fasten. Use roses on greens as centerpiece or as house decorations.

Chewey Treats For Family, Friends

CHOCOLATE CHERRY CHEWS

1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1½ teaspoons vanilla
1½ cup soft-type margarine containing liquid safflower oil
4 squares (1 ounce each) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled
1 cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1½ to 1½ cups flaked coconut
1 cup (8-ounce jar) candied cherries, chopped
Combine sugar, salt, eggs and vanilla in mixing bowl; beat until thick and lemon-colored. Add soft-type margarine and melted chocolate. Mix until blended. Blend in flour. Stir in coconut and cherries. Brush 15 x 10 x 1-inch baking pan with soft-type margarine; turn in batter. Bake in 350-degree oven 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Frost with White Frosting. Cut into 2 x 1-inch bars. If desired, garnish with pieces of candied or maraschino cherries. To freeze, place on baking sheet covered with saran food wrap. Place in freezer until frosting is firm. Wrap in saran food wrap and store in freezer. Makes 75 bars.

WHITE FROSTING
¼ cup soft-type margarine containing liquid safflower oil
3 cups sifted confectioner's sugar
2 to 3 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Beat together all ingredients, adding enough milk to make frosting smooth and creamy.

Village Board Rejects 'Illegal' Housing Ordinance

By Charles Mearns
The village trustees last night rejected a ordinance proposed by the Arlington Heights Housing Commission and instead will consider Evanston's law.

The change was not limited on the board's agenda as an item for discussion.

President John G. Woods said the Dec. 18 meeting of the board's committee of the whole said and the trustees will then actively consider an ordinance.

THE REASON for the change, he said, is a legal opinion that housing ordinance is not enforceable because of a provision which bans directly individual owners.

Woods said Evanston's ordinance is unconstitutional. Legal, a corporate counsel for Evanston, too, helped prepare the ordinance.

THE MODEL ordinance submitted by the local board would allow a landlord to lease a housing board for renters and would prohibit a broker to discriminate because of a person's religion, color, race or national origin.

The prohibition would also apply to owners, landlords and tenants.

IT ALSO provided for the suspension of a landlord's license in case the broker was found guilty of discrimination by the village board or a court of law.

The ordinance stated, "no owner would be required to publicly advertise the offering or renting of his property and he may prefer one person over another for reasons of race, color or national origin."

The Evanston ordinance, which was passed in that city Nov. 2 and will become effective Jan. 1, 1968, does not include any limitations on the conduct of individual owners who are selling property.

It also provides for a fine of $100 for each violation.

It is 14 weeks in a code of ethics for landlords.

It is 14 weeks in a code of ethics for landlords.

THE ORDINANCE under consideration now also provides for suspension of a broker's license if found guilty of violating the ordinance.

Woods said the ordinance would be a model for other municipalities to follow.

to work with an ordinance which is not considered a housing ordinance.

SIGEL said the ordinance would be a model for other municipalities to follow.

He said, "It is the same as Evanston, which has been declared unconstitutional by the courts."

He conceded, though, the ordinance would not be considered unconstitutional by the courts.

The far housing ordinance the trustees would consider, Sigel said, is the same as Evanston, which has been declared unconstitutional by the courts.

Attorney to Prepare Lawsuit

Trustees Oppose Night Racing at Arlington

By Charles Mearns
Arlington Heights trustees Monday to oppose night racing at Arlington Park and introduced the village attorney to prepare a lawsuit against the park which may be filed after a meeting with officials of the racing commission.

A democratic crowd of residents testified last night that night racing would lower property values around the park, attract "undesirable characters" disturb the public peace at night and endanger the residents.

ONE CITIZEN even attacked racing on moral grounds and asked for a public debate on the sport.

The trustees decided to oppose it.

THE COMPROMISE proposal was made by trustee Frank Koffman, who said he would like to see a compromise between the two proposals. He said he would like to see a compromise between the two proposals.

The Verdict is Yours

By Catherine O'Donnell

Right now, the local theaters are looking for a cast and they are looking for a great man or woman to be the lead in the new production. The popular first achievement of Ann Rand will be dropped by Youth Space who dropped acting classes for Village Theatre, Inc. members last year. The cast is known for her professional director of plays in the Chicago area.

AND MANNEVILLE
While publicist Sheila Baker of the Village Theatre was talking about the next production, she mentioned the next members of the annual children's play which will be given on Dec. 16 and 17 at the Saturday and Sunday.

There are still tickets available for the Saturday 3 p.m. and the Sunday 5 p.m. production of the ever popular "Hansel and Gretel."

The title roles will be played by Bill Calahan and Donald Jennings. Ernst will be Dick Baker (also president of Village Theatre) and Karl will be played by Pat Evans, the Village Theatre (men old thing) is played by John Henson, the Village Theatre (men old thing) is played by John Henson, the Village Theatre (men old thing) is played by John Henson.

The play is being directed by Barbara Connor. It will be at the Arlington High School Theatre. Also Linda may be cast for tickets at $1.50-$2.00.

The next meeting of the group will be held this Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at Park School.

BEHIND OF THE SEASON
There was so much business at the Christmas party Saturday morning that the police were waving off can trying to enter the parking lot. And, reports Jan Bone, there was a lot of people at the party. The party was held at the Arlington High School Theatre. Also Linda may be cast for tickets at $1.50-$2.00.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR WEDNESDAY

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 21) - Deliberate efficiency before you undertake any new activity. It would be easy for you to let more than you can chew.

APRIL (Apr. 21 - May 20) -

Call on your appreciative artistic instincts rather than your creative ones for the moment. You can encourage others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19) - Use pride to your advantage. This is no time to allow false modesty to stand in your way.

PIES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) -

All work and no play may cause you more in the way of setbacks than forward moves.

Make a place in your schedule for relaxation.

ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) -

Accept the assistance of others with grace. To refuse and simply for the sake of being independent may be most unwise.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21) -

Gain the sympathy of others

through your honesty

rather than by exaggerating

the issue. Disappointment can be unwise.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21) -

Be prepared to take ac-

Hold Capping Ceremony

Girl Scout Troop 666 will hold a Capping Ceremony at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 7 at Clearmont School, Elk Grove Village, when they will cross the bridge from Cade to Senior Scouting. Saturday, Dec. 9, the troop will celebrate entering this new level in scouting by spending the day in Chicago and seeing "Camelot."

AT THE recent Northwest Cook County Council dinner the following adult scout personnel from this area attended: Carol Thomas, Boone Malmgren, Doris Abernathy, Cora Giarratano, Nita Stamm, Alice McCann, Ginny Foster, Marian Kolske and Judy Zanca.

St. James Guild members Mrs. Robert Kearney and Mrs. Wayne Hesch lend a helping hand so that Christmas presents for teens at Maryville will be ready for their party Sunday.

Ups Prime Mortgage Rate

An increase in interest rates on prime mortgage loans to 10 percent has been announced by Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Assn.

Donald F. Morion, executive vice president of the firm, said the action reflected a trend which began several weeks ago in the area real estate market.

"Primarily, the savings and loan industry, in general, has been resisting this upward pressure in lending rates. However, as the market has shown a strong upward trend, it is inevitable," said Morion.

"Many lenders have given in to the mounting pressure of the last several weeks, only after delaying the increase for some months. Finally, Arlington Heights Federal must now succumb to that same pressure," he said.

"The experts apparently are in agreement that this period of so-called tight money could last longer and push interest rates continually higher. We'll have to wait and see in that regard," said Morion.

High School Dist. 214.

Effects of Night Racing Discussed

In the last six years and this year a total of 141 cases were reported to the Illinois
Department of Public Safety.
Mayor Meyer of Rolling
Meadows said that the noise and lights at night are of concern to families living near the track. He did not think the night traffic would be any more than traffic for daytime races.

Mayor Jack Moody of Palatine said that their village officials generally believe that night races would reduce traffic in Palatine. The change would have the evening traffic flow of Arlington Park race track.
"How do the horses run at night? Moody inquired. "We have been discussing this matter of night racing for several hours and to this moment no one has said anything about the horses."

The 3rd and 4th Divisions of the Far Northwest District of

Choralettes In Concert

Newly elected officers of the Northwest Choralettes, Josephine Selzer, secretary Helen Elverson, treasurer, and Evelyn Jeppesen, president, (left to right) are selecting the right costume decoration for the Dec. 9 Christmas party to be presented by the chorale group at the YMC-A in Des Plaines.

A Christmas Concert will be presented by the Northwest Choralettes at 8 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 9 at the Northwest YMC-A in Des Plaines. The chorale group under the direction of Dr. Robert Jeppesen of Des Plaines will present a variety of Christmas carols, including "The Ceremony of Carols" by Benjamin Britten. Soloists will include Josephine Selzer of Arlington Heights, Helen Jensen and Jane Myers of Mount Prospect, Jean Neuhouser and Colleen Cummins of Rolling Meadows and Amy Douglas of Palatine. Piano accompanist is Shirley Frit of Mount Prospect who will also play the Carol "Rhapsody" by Purcell on the organ. Virginia Schwab of Barrington is the narrator. The public is invited to attend.

Take Care Choosing Toys

BY LOU ANN BLAIR

Have you an item on your budget for Christmas presents? By all means, stick to it. You don't have to spend a fortune or go in debt to have a happy Christmas.

Moderns are best at this time of year by plan from their children for toys. Being naturally acquisitive, of course the children want everything they see but what better time to have than now to teach them that not all always get what we want.

Our permissive upbringing and giving in to children's slightest whims have backfired; don't you think? A firm parental hand on the purse strings is one way to start recovering a sense of values.

WHAT'S the purpose of Christmas anyway? To load our children down with a lot of childish toys. Common sense should dictate our spending. Resist the temptation to spend more than the budget.

Remember how short-lived most most of the toys you purchase end up of all over the house or they are poorly designed or manufactured items you are sure to regret.

MULTI-USE toys, such as building blocks, dolls, books and puzzles. There are perfect examples of items that play off in many ways. As classic games fall into this category and you will use them keep up with the times by considering toys keyed to happenings such as space exploration. Try to buy toys that are neither too old nor too young for satisfying play.

TIME and again, the toy is not how much a gift costs but whether it will fill a need in the development and growth of the child.

So don't go on your annual safari into Toyland and get carried away. Consider carefully your child's personality and stage of development.

Christmas Gift Suggestions

Your Holiday Greetings could not be more thoughtfully expressed than with beautiful gifts from our annual collection.

JEWELRY: Selection of earrings, brooches, necklaces and Zirconium bracelets and sets. Tiffin and other well known costume jewelry lines. Price range from $5.00 to $25.00.

ROBERT: Barbara nylon, sweaters and scarves. $9.99 and up. $19.99 and $49.99.

WHY WE CARRY GANT

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needle-knits the warp and woof" of every Gant shirt, there's fit. It and show — these vital ingredients that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant because they take shirt making seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of color, its roll, its profile — how much it shows above the shirt collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that visible ingredient which gives comfort and optimism. In substance, Gant shirts are layered to the discerning tastes of well-groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.

GANT

Sabre Striped Oxford Button-Down

Let's not parry—a shirt is more than a sheath to wear it with. It's a weapon to stimulate you. This is why Gant puts verve, spirit and color into this Sabre Striped cotton-oxford button-down. Tailored with singular precision...patently Gant. Trim Huggar body. In blue, pumpkin or crimson—with color-framed stripes. $90

Cat Gymnasts Blow Early Lead, Fall to New Trier E., 70 1/2 - 61 1/2

BY JIM MASEK

Wheeling grabbed an early lead over New Trier East in the first gymnastics meet of the season yesterday, but couldn't hold it and fell 70 1/2-61 1/2.

After taking a surprising 10-6 lead in the trampoline, the Wildcats watched their lead steadily erode until the Indians passed them with a strong showing on the rings.

"TWO MISSED dismounts and a missed handstand on the rings cost us the meet," said Wheeling Coach Wayne Selvig. The blown dismounts came on the high bar and the parallel bars.

After taking the 10-6 lead after the first event, the Cats gave up 12 points on the all-around competition, which Selvig said "usually is our strongest."

"One of our boys fell right off," he said. "When the sideway went, I knew we were in difficulty."

The Wheeling lead was trimmed to 26-18 after that event, but the worst was to come.

New Trier took the first two places in the high bar on the performance of Jim Scully and Bill Miller. The Indians trailed 36-22.

Wheeling moved one point further out in front after the parallel bars, although Scully again took a first. Dick Rainer was second for the Cats and Steve Geiger was third. Gary Morava and John Smith took fourth, giving the Cats a 43-42 lead with two events remaining.

But Rich Orna missed a handstand on the rings and had to settle for second in the event. He was the only Cat to break the New Trier's tie in the event, giving Jerry Pascoe second and Mirro third.

The Indians took first, third and fourth in the tumbling competition to salt away the win. Morava was second for Wheeling.

"It was just a case of early-season blues," Selvig said of the missed handstand and the two losses.

"AT THE END of a routine this early in the season a boy's muscles are tight. Dismounts require a high degree of coordination and timing. If the boy is timing it possible that he won't be able to do it properly."

Selvig defended Orna, who missed the handstand.

"One of the requirements on the rings is that you have Mike Hughes swung around the high bar, Hughes took fourth for the Wildcats, a handstand with strength," he said. "Orna didn't have it too time, but I think that's going to be one of the top five in the state on the rings this year."

Despite the miss, Orna still scored 7.45 for his routine. Selvig said that the responsibility was his for fatigue at the end of routines.

He changed my philosophy this year," he said. "Last season, we worked on routines all along and then tried to work in new tricks before the start tournament."

"THIS YEAR we started practicing tricks right away, but it hasn't worked out."

"As my fault that they haven't spent more time on their routines. But well be working on routines from here on out."

"The boys may have learned something today, too," he said. "Maybe now they know that they'll have to push themselves a little bit harder."

For the Wildcats will have more than a week to improve their routines. Their next meet will be at home against New Trier West on Dec. 14.

School Bus, Auto Collide, Woman Seriously Hurt

Bread Rush Clears Shelves

School bus, driven by Mary E. Bremer of 2223 Wilke Rd., Rolling Meadows, after it collided with an auto at Arlington and Arlington Heights Rd. The bus, bound over a traffic light and struck a car on the collision.

'Passengers Not Injured'

A Mount Pleasant woman was seriously injured this morning when her car collided with a school bus loaded with Forest View High School students at the intersection of Arlington and Arlington Heights Rds. None of the bus passengers were injured.

Mrs. Virginia McInnes, 24, of 2114 W. Arlington Rd. was taken to Northwestern Community Hospital suffering from multiple injuries. A hospital spokesman said her condition was serious. Mary E. Bremer of 2223 Wilke Rd., Rolling Meadows, drove the bus, which was taken to the hospital for observation.

When Linda Kasper of 111 E. Arlington Heights Rd. Rd. was stopped at the intersection, she was turning to the left of the road after the collision, struck down a traffic light and struck her own car. Mrs. Kasper, wife of Carl Kasper of 111 E. Arlington Heights Rd., was taken to the hospital for observation.

According to reports, the school bus, owned by the Cook County Bus Co. Inc., was proceeding east on Arlington Rd. when it collided with the car, which was proceeding from the opposite direction. A witness said Mrs. McInnes was taken to a left turn on Arlington Heights Rd. Traffic at the intersection was held up for about 20 minutes.

According to Dr. L. S. JENNISON, at Forest View High School, eight students reported to the school nurse with minor injuries. These asked to go home and were allowed to do so.

The students were Wayne Brown, Barbara McCall, Melvyn G. Genshert, Mary Kasper, Tom Lantieri, Debbie Brown, Nancy Kasper and Joanne Kasper. They were among 20 passengers at the time of the accident. The bus serves the south end of Rolling Meadows.

Harry Bachman, assistant grocery manager of the Jewel Tea Co. store in Arlington Heights, surveys empty bread shelves in the store. Most stores reported a run on bakery goods following an ILM bakery driver's crash off the job. The article is not expected to affect chain stores because most of them, including Jewel, have their own bakeries and their own deliverymen.

Ice Warning Last Week

Rolling Meadows Park District officials last week issued a warning to citizens against driving or walking on the ice at Kimball Hill Lake, the scene of yesterday's drowning. In a press release delivered to all schools in the city, park officials stated that the lake was covered with only about a half-inch of ice. Rolling Meadows police said that two warning markers were on the lake and added that the park's warning had been posted in the school newspaper at the Kimball Hill School, where drowning victim David Tamborini was in the second grade.

According to park officials, clear ice two inches thick is regarded as the minimum for safe walking, and clear ice three to four inches thick is regarded as safe for ice skating.

Pahl to Head Cook County Council

BY RICHARD KRAM
Jack Pahl, mayor of Elm Grove Village, was elected permanent president of the Cook County Council of Government at the organization's annual meeting Wednesday in Chicago.

The 20-man executive committee on the first year budget of $3,000, established a list of 13 projects, set annual dues, selected a home office and provided for an office staff.

Roger Bjork, secretary of the Pelaine Park District, was named first vice president. Everett C. Schell, supervisor of Thorburn Township, was elected second vice president.

VILLAGE Trustee Jack Walsh Jr., of Arlington Heights and Mayor Daniel J. Murphy of Mount Prospect reported on finances and services. Walsh presented a report for Mayor John G. Pendergast of Arlington Heights, who could not be present. Congress reported that there are 460 local government units in suburban Cook County. These include municipalities, townships, school districts, park districts, fire districts and other public bodies with taxing authority.

"Our committee received offers from some units to make substantial contributions in the form of immediate and adequate services," Congress explained. "After considering the matter, our committee decided to recommend a low first year budget of $75."

The Congress committee made the following proposals: — No unit of government should initially be permitted to participate financially at a level above the prescribed limit in presenting the council to county governments. It should be stressed that the new organization will provide services and programs and is not a planning group. — Local government units should be assured that the council does not pose a threat to their authority.

THE COUNCIL accepted the Congress recommendation and established the initial dues at $75. Total participation would provide a first-year income of $15,500. Local government units will be invited to join the council at once.

The Woods committee on services of the council recommended consideration of more than 30 projects divided into four categories: urgent and difficult, important but not urgent and important but less difficult.

As urgent and most difficult the Woods committee listed land use planning, flood control and storm water drainage, water supply, refuse disposal, air and water pollution, noise abatement, transportation and a metropolitan airport for southern Cook County.

The urgent and difficult program recommended are: Death and disaster control, legislation, tornado control, system and disaster control, acquisition of open space, traffic safety, mutual aid and training for policemen and firemen.

PROGRAMS considered important but not urgent were Cooperative purchasing, joint use of computers, joint maintenance of recreation centers, community beautification, improvement of northern Illinois waterways, youth services, liaison with the county and liaison with the Cook County Board of Cook County Housing Board, Chicago Area Transportation Study, Northwestern Illinois Planning Commission, Chicago Metropolitan Sanitary District, Cook County Forest Preserve Board and other public agencies.

The Loyola University urban services department located at 820 N. Michigan in Chicago will be used by the council for a home office and staff services. James Hanover of the Loyola staff will serve as council office director.

The next meeting of the council will be held Jan. 10.

Boy, 7, Falls Through Ice, Drowns

BY MEL MILES

A seven-year-old Rolling Meadows boy drowned yesterday afternoon when he fell through the ice covering the Kimball Hill Lake in Rolling Meadows. The victim is David Tamborini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tamborini of 2907 South Ct.

told the boys that the ice was thin and to get off the lake.

MORRISSEY told the police that he helped the area of the lake but returned minutes later to check if the boys had gotten off the ice. Morrisey then noticed a hole in the ice about 60 feet from shore. He told police that he saw David floundering in the water.

A Rolling Meadows brother and sister, Holly Smith, 13, and Malcolm Smith, 16, of 2903 Sprague were with Morrisey at the lake.

to rescue the boy. Smith attempted to wade out to the hole in the ice but could not reach the boy. Morrisey began to swim toward David, according to police, who had disappeared from sight.

THE TRAGEDY was almost compounded when Morrisey began to drown. Police Sergeant Chuck Padden and William Golden rescued the youth who was taken to Northwestern Community Hospital for treatment of several lacerations sustained in the rescue attempt.

Firemen from the city's rescue unit arrived within minutes of the initial alarm and commanded a boat from nearby sporting goods store. Fire Lt. Ted Loesch and Fireman Ed Better recovered David's body several minutes after the boy began to drown. The boy was pronounced dead at Northwestern Community Hospital.

Padden and Golden also had to pull the Smith boy from the lake but he was not injured in the rescue attempt.

According to police, the Smiths had been swimming in the lake for about 15 minutes when the boy fell through the ice.

David's father told police that his son had expressed a desire to learn to swim last summer and had completed a beginner Red Cross swimming course.

David was in the second grade at the Kimball Hill School in Rolling Meadows. The school is located only blocks from the lake.

The boy's body was taken to the Leishner & Oehler Funeral Home in Arlington Heights and funeral arrangements are incomplete. A spokesman for the Cook County Coroner's Office said that an inquest into the death would be held but a date has not yet been fixed.

Elks in Chef's Clothing

Everything from Sauce to Liqueur

BY MARILYN HELPERS

Do you have a husband who likes to create gourmet concoctions in the kitchen? As ideal Christmas present for him would be a copy of a special cookbook prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Arlington Heights Elks.

One chapter titled "Elks in Chef's Clothing" contains recipes donated by the Elks themselves - everything from spaghetti sauce to brewing your own liquor.

The book also contains recipes from celebration such as Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson; Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower; Mrs. Everett Dirksen; Mrs. Otto Karem; Debbie Reynolds; Phyllis Diller; Mrs. Eddie Hubbard; Art Linkletter; Bob Hope; Wally Phillips and others.

ED SCHNEIDER, manager of the Elks, has contributed a recipe for spaghetti sauce that could certainly come in handy now. If you're going all day shopping and getting ready for Christmas, wouldn't it be nice to reach in the freezer and pull out some homemade spaghetti sauce for your family's dinner?

Anthony Tomaso is editor of the cookbook, Mrs. Martin Schuler, typist and Mrs. Richard Kim, artist. To obtain a copy of the book that tells for $3, contact Mrs. Tomaso, 558 N. Wadsworth, Arlington Heights, CL 3-4102.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE

2 pounds ground beef
2 medium onions, chopped
Mix together and brown lightly. Add:

1 teaspoon minced garlic
1 teaspoon chili powder

1/2 teaspoon Italian seasoning
1/2 teaspoon Barbecue sauce
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon Lawry's seasoned pepper
1 teaspoon Accent

Add 2 cans 12-ounce tomato paste and 2 cans water. Let simmer for a couple hours. Add salt to taste. 12 dried you may also add 1/2-ounce can of mushroom pieces.

Elks in chef's clothing. Anthony Tomaso is all set to try some recipes from the new cookbook published by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Arlington Heights Elks.

AAUW Carol Sing

A traditional Christmas program will be presented by the choral group of the Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women at 8:15 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 14 in the West Park Lodge, 651 Wolfe Rd., Des Plaines. Harper Football Unlikely in '68

BY RALPH NOVAK

Harper Junior College probably will not have a football team next season, but most likely will have one by 1969. Acting Athletic Director Ed Gatch said Wednesday.

"Unless things develop awfully fast—and I don't think they will—we won't be playing intercollegiate football next year," Gatch said.

His recommendations to the Board of Trustees on the school's 1968 athletic program did not include a football team, and he said he has not yet officially mentioned the subject to the board.

TD LIKE TO START with a first class operation in football, and have time to solve problems before the season starts," Gatch said. "In football, you need locker room space, a place to store equipment, a training room, and a place to hold these fields. I don't really know where we'll be able to find these facilities."

Even if Harper could quickly organize a football program, he added, it would be difficult to get a staff or plan a schedule on such short notice. They were scheduled to the Northern Illinois Junior College Conference (NIJCC) in which Harper will compete have football teams.

The college hasn't yet picked a coach for the season sports it will compete in next year—cross-country, golf, basketball, wrestling, baseball, tennis, and track.

He said the coaches will be chosen next spring and will have time to select the probably be hired as combination physical education instructor and coach. But some coaches may be members of the school's faculty in other departments, he added, and that this is "a little more of a problem."

In addition to football, gymnastic and swimming were excluded from the 1968-69 program. Gymnastics was not included because the NIJCC doesn't have gymnastic competition, Gatch said.

Harper will play "as many of its basketball games as possible" at Elk Grove High School's gym, Gatch said. If the college's schedule conflicts with the high school's, Harper may play some games at other schools, he added.

Cards, Lions Facing Swimming Meets

Arlington and St. Victor face dual swimming meets this afternoon.

The Cardinals will travel to West Leyden in search of their first win of the year. The team will be home for St. George. Starting time for the Arlington meet is 4:30. For the Victor meet, 4:15.

The Cardinals lost their first two duals of the year, falling to East Leyden 7-22, and Lake Forest 7-17.

For the Lions, this will be the first dual meet of the year.

Dist. 59 Snow Bus Routes

Here's a map of the routes that 59 school buses will follow in "emergency" weather. Schools will be kept open whenever possible, a district spokesman said. However, if a decision is made to go to "emergency" conditions, all major roads and television stations, plus WTVN (CBS), the local Arlington Heights FM radio station, will carry the announcement. Leonard G. Conner, the district director of special services, said that during emergency weather, buses will stop at main highways and section line roads, as marked, at the intersection of any side street. He says that parents, using the map, should select a point for their children to meet the bus. Kindergarten buses will not be used for emergency routing.

"The fourth largest Suburb Northwest of Chicago"

The post war surge to Arlington Heights increased the town's population by 218% during the 1950's and the growth has continued to its present count of 53,000.

Arlington Heights was originally called Dundee, after its founder. The village changed its name to the more "high sounding" Arlington Heights because of its altitude, 704 ft. above sea level (106 ft. higher than Chicago).

Many capable builders are contracting in the Arlington Heights area and a revitalized business area forms the downtown section.

Older sections of town include a wide variety of home styles, solid brick as well as well kept frame homes, amid large trees.

Prices range from $16,500 to $75,000 with new homes starting at $26,000. There is an estimated 1,500 rental units renting from $95.00 to $300.00 per month. There are some 50 townhouses in the village.

One of the biggest reasons for this tremendous growth is due largely to its proximity to O'Hare, railroad and expressway systems.

Nearing completion is the Arlington Heights Library shown in these pictures.

RESET Helps Locate Transferees

Realizing the need to provide new services geared to the changing needs of its clients, Baird & Warner, Inc. has pioneered a public relations program to assist families re-locating in Metropolitan Chicago as a result of corporate transfers.

Developed by Mrs. Rae H. Brown, public relations director, the program is appropriately called RESET (Real Estate Service for Employee Transfers). To familiarize the family on the move, RESET offers descriptions of 50 of Chicago's prime residential areas served by Baird & Warner's 23 branch offices. Transportation to the Loop, location of recreational, shopping, and medical facilities, driving time and most direct route to the airport, local school data at all grade levels, price range of homes that can be had in a given area, the basic differences in the purchase of condominium and co-operative apartments . . . answers to those and many more questions uppermost in the minds of families coming to Chicago are contained in RESET, along with general information on apartment rentals.

This material is made available through personal contacts with the countless corporations in Metropolitan Chicago who move personnel into the area from other locations. In the course of a year, thousands of inquiries are handled from out-of-town families who seek out information on homes to buy and apartments to rent, with the result that the major portion of Baird & Warner's business involves service to families on the move.

INCLUDED IN THE RESET FOLDER is an information form on which the prospect is asked to detail his specific needs in a home. "An evaluation of this information permits us to direct the client to areas where he is most likely to find a good selection of houses which meet his requirements," Mrs. Brown explains.

How much time should a transferee allow to locate a home in Metropolitan Chicago? According to Baird & Warner's experience, if his schedule is well-arranged, a four-day weekend is sufficient for him to work through the company's branch office to find the type of home the prospect desires.

"Because of the attraction Baird & Warner enjoys from corporate transferees, many corporate real estate departments and individuals leaving Metropolitan Chicago look to us to help in the disposal of residential real estate," Mrs. Brown says. The inter-office referral of clients within the framework of the company's local branches gives the seller's property maximum exposure, thereby helping to effect a quick sale. "Carrying the program even further," she points out, "we also give assistance to our sellers leaving Chicago—by putting them in touch with our broker friends in other areas who are vitally interested in working with out-of-town clients." Every effort is made to refer the client leaving Chicago to an out-of-town community that offers similar environment and housing choices whether it is a house or an estate-size country property.

"With the cooperation of our brokers in other cities, we have accumulated extensive information about communities in other parts of the country related to cost of houses, proximity to neighboring commercial and industrial sites, types of homes sold, transportation, etc." Mrs. Brown points out.

While RESET has its greatest audience among corporate transfers, many families already living in Chicago request this type of information if they are moving from one area to another within the metropolis. Even though they may have lived in the Chicago area all their lives, they have the same interest as a transferee in learning about the fine points of community living in the area of their choice.

In addition to its activities in the sale of homes and rental of apartments, Baird & Warner is prepared to serve clients in making appraisals, arranging financing, and tailoring insurance coverage to suit the individual's needs.

Electric Drills Refined, Versatile

The electric drill has long been the first power tool for the home handyman, after he has all of his basic hand tools, and the common electric drill has undergone a transformation in recent years.

The simple 1/4-inch electric drill was the only kind you could buy not too long ago. For anything larger, say 3/8- or 1/2-inch work, you needed an expensive industrial model. And for versatility there just wasn't any.

But now the gap between the simple and the heavy-duty drill has been filled with a variety of models that offer more power, and at a reasonable price.

INNOVATIONS INCLUDE variable speeds, reverse gears, insulated handles, battery operated drills.

The variable speed has made the drill tremendously versatile. Simplest models have a switch that allows you to operate the drill at either a high or low speed.

More sophisticated is the speed control that allows you to run the drill from the speed that barely turns the chuck to the unit's maximum speed. Simply increasing pressure on the trigger switch increases the speed.

WHEN YOU ARE WORKING with hard materials or large drill bits, you need power rather than speed, and cutting down the speed gives you the extra power. Going through a piece of soft material, on the other hand, just requires speed.

With variable speeds, the use of a screwdriver bit in a drill becomes truly practical. And power driving is a convenience like no other.

The low speeds help in starting a hole. Too. Instead of using a center punch you can start with the drill bit itself. At a low speed, it will not slip off the surface.

A REVERSE GEAR feature is found on some models. You can back a drill bit out of a deep hole with it. Remember the screwdriver bit? With a reverse gear you can remove screws just as easily.

Fully insulated drills make the electric drill a safer tool to use. Most drills are equipped with three-prong cord plugs, but in an old home there is no place to plug them in. Adapters are available but most of us are careless about grounding the adapter.

THE INSULATED DRILL is ideal in a damp basement. Battery-operated drills allow you to work away from a power supply. This sort of drill works on a rechargeable battery cell.

Determine if you really need a cordless drill before investing in one. It may not be worth the extra expense to you.

The simple pistol grip has given way to a variety of handle styles. Some drills have extra handles so you can get a better grip on the tool. Shop around for the drill that has the features you want, and be sure it handles comfortably.

Volunteers Help Limit Fire Insurance Rates

Did you ever wonder how you saw a fire truck roaring along the highway with sirens screaming in a rural community if the volunteers really could be assembled rapidly enough to put out the fire?

In some very small communities the fire station is actually unattended most of the time, yet the fire insurance companies rely on the volunteer forces in rural areas and small towns have a remarkably good record in quenching blazes and keeping insurance rates at reasonable levels in their communities.

Everybody can see the modern firehouse and fire truck paid for partly from tax funds and partly from the proceeds of the firemen's fair.

But the volunteer fire department is equally dependent on a wide variety of ultra-modern specialized telephone systems that "hitch hike" on regular residential and business phone lines.

Many of these systems are made by General Telephone & Electronics Corp. and its subsidiary, Automatic Electric Co. of Northlake, Ill. According to Vice President James J. Clerk, Jr., General Telephone has installed about 500 of these systems across the country.

As a result, volunteer firemen in such towns as Lebanon, Ky., Clinton, Ill. or Ontario, Calif., no longer are dependent on hearing the coded blasts of the raucous signal horn atop the fire station miles away.

They get the alarm in their homes and offices at the same time that it reaches the dispatcher or the electromechanical monitoring device at the firehouse. In Lebanon, Ky., for example, when the firehouse dispatcher gets an alarm, he lifts the receiver on a special phone and instantly the home and office telephones of every volunteer fireman in Lebanon ring. If a fireman's telephone is busy, a special buzzer warns the parties to hang up at once, then the firemen get the address of the blaze by instantaneous conference call.

CLERKIN SAID the system cut the assembly time for Lebanon's firefighters from an average of 15 minutes to two minutes.

In Clinton, Ill., the dispatcher reads the alarm into a tape recording device which automatically calls all the firemen's homes and offices simultaneously and gives them the location of the fire. A more elaborate system at Ontario, Calif., links not only the firemen's homes and offices but alarm boxes on the streets and roads with the fire house dispatcher and as automatic call recording system.

FOR DOUBLE CHECK, this system makes both a voice tape recording and the dispatcher's typed tape of the time and place of the alarm.

An electric map automatically pinpoints by flashing lights the location from which the alarm is coming so the dispatcher can instantly choose the fastest route for sending fire engines to fight the blaze.

A device called the electronic secretary can be added to the system to keep automatically giving recorded instructions to firemen who must the original alarm but call it to the station for instructions.

REAL ESTATE - THE BEST INVESTMENT

Do you know why real estate is your best investment?

Real estate is considered a prime investment for the following reasons:

It is surrounded with substantial elements of safety. If wisely chosen, real estate can be the most secure of investments.

Real estate is a permanent asset. This is perhaps one of its most commendable features. This characteristic has saved many a person from losing money in "get-rich-quick" schemes. An owner is not easily rushed off his feet in an effort to sell.

When you invest in real estate, you may get and look at it. You can see that it is there. You know it will be there tomorrow. There is a sense of pride of ownership involved. This feeling is unmatched in no other form of investment.

Of course, in today's expanding society and exploding population, the value of good real estate is steadily increasing.

Robert L. Nelson, Realtors is a member of the famous "National FIMB-A-HOME Service, Inc.," America's number one Executive - Employees Referral Organization. If you're moving out of the area, let Nelson explain how "FIMB-A-HOME" can be beneficial to your future home finding plans.

The Nelson syndicate are more than just salesmen and saleswomen - they are experts in all phases of Real Estate from home selling to home improvements.

Here's How to Have Carpets Look Best

Carpets have the floor once more.

Their proper care, anyway, since holiday time reminds housewives that they want their floor coverings looking their best. Unfortunately the bad snow-and-slush season ahead of us will also increase the sum total of dirt that gets deposited on the living room rug, which has been estimated by experts to come close to 35 pounds of annual debris dumped on the average size rug.

Just what can you do to keep this assortment of everything from toppled to cigar ashes from becoming a disaster area?

FIRST, IT'S OBVIOUS that frequent vacuuming will prevent the dirt from being ground into the rug so that it eats away at the fibers at the base points.

The average housewife does this sort of the second step to aid her cause. This is simply to make it a habit to put down sheets of paper, preferably old but clean wrapping paper, before she starts on any project involving cutting out paper patterns, trimming fabrics working on cut flowers, or any science jobs of any kind. The trick is to catch any bits and pieces before they get underfoot and snugly dig into the rug.

If you have spilled any powder or granulated substance, don't delay cleanup operations until the next time you vacuum. Instead, keep a whiskbroom handy, even an old stubby one, and promptly remove as much of the stuff as possible.

IF YOU WASH OR SHAMPOO the rug yourself, make sure that you remove the preparation completely, since any residue tends to cause rapid re-soiling and even damage to the fabric of the color or both. And be wary of overwetting the carpet, since this brings about a delayed-action browning effect.

Any alkalies in soap preparations such as heavy laundry, soaps, strong dishwashing or floorscrubbing detergents, wall or sink cleaners, usually cause permanent discoloration or bleeding.

To protect your investment in a costly rug, the best advice is to have it cleaned by a professional firm, at least once a year.

Versatile Gadget

A hose spray is one of those handy items for the home, which is only appreciated when not around.

For spot jobs of cleaning, washing, and gardening, this uncomplicated device is just about the most versatile home gadget of them all.

Every housewife knows how handy it is to rinse dishes, wash fresh vegetables, clean the sink itself, spend up the job of getting pots spick and span. In the laundry room, it directs a jet of water right at those badly soiled areas on clothes which need special attention, or does a job on many articles not handled in the kitchen sink, such as feeding dishes for pets. In the "mud room" it's always helpful to clean off garden or other tools, clay-clogged overbores, and similar messy items.

The automatically retracting type is of course the most practical and space-saving, but even the run-of-the-mill type is a time-saver, and cuts down on housewifely headaches.

Privacy, renaissance elegance and ultra modern appointments are key elements in the outstanding identity created in the new Three Fountains apartments in Plum Grove.

The name, Three Fountains, is derived from the fountains in the landscaped courts at the entranceway to the apartment buildings, and are reminiscent of the classic beauty of the French palace at Versailles.

Building foyers are deeply carpeted, have paneled wainscot, white and gold balustrades, ornate chandeliers and an intercom system in each apartment.

"PRIVACY IS A KEYNOTE of the apartment-suiter," according to Don Scholz, president of Scholz Homes, Inc.

Window Kits

Let the winter winds blow, just so you have made things snug around your windows with Frost-King storm window kits, costing usually 25 cents for a unit measuring 3 by 6 feet. The accordion-pleated clear plastic sheet is easily tucked over the window with nailing strips and nails in the kit; also practical for cold frames, shrub protection screens, and similar items.

developer of Three Fountains, "and we have assured that in two ways: by building layout design, and by insulation. Party and ball walls, floors and ceilings are all double insulated. The floors are also heavily padded, and covered with premium weight, wall-to-wall carpeting. Drapes are also provided. Plumbing and entrance doors are extra insulated, too."

ONE- AND TWO-BEDROOM SUITES are provided, each with sliding doors to a private patio or balcony. The two-bedroom units also have a dressing room with vanity, a mirrored wall, and a large wardrobe closet. Certain apartments also feature two lavatories. All baths are tiled.

Kitchen appointments have been carefully selected and include fine wood cabinets, dishwasher, built-in range and oven, vent hood, refrigerator, and garbage disposal. First floor kitchen floors are vinyl tile; second and third floor units have waterproof, stainproof carpeting. Each kitchen has a breakfast nook, flanked by a colonial bottle-glass panel wall.

NESTLED IN THE LANDSCAPED Three Fountains setting are facilities for community recreation: a heated swimming pool, cabana, and a private lake and wood-deck stream.

Rentals begin at $165 for the one-bedroom, and $225 for the two-bedroom suites, and include the carpeting, drapes, all heat and air-conditioning and elevator service. Indoor heated parking is an option.

Three Fountains is located on Algonquin Rd., one-quarter mile east of Route 53 (Rohrbach Rd.), near the Northwest Tollway interchange. Shopping centers, schools, churches, professional and recreational facilities are all conveniently close. Models are open daily from 1 - 7 p.m. and 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

'A Man For All Seasons'

St. Thomas More, played by Bruce Harrison, 215 Madison Ave. Mount Prospect, opened its season Dec. 11 with "A Man For All Seasons." Based on a book by Robert Bolt, the play is a historical drama, to take his home to Chicago.

The play is being presented by the Prospect High School Chapter of the National Thomas More Society.

Curtain times are 4 p.m. today and 5 p.m. Saturday, at Prospect High School.

Residents to Fight Night Racing Plans

Feeling against proposed night racing at Arlington Park is rising among area residents.

One area resident who is trying to do something about it is Barbara Vidmar, 1312 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights. "We are going to fight them at the way to the line," she told The Day last night. "Marge Events doesn't own the track, and we're going to give it."

"NOBODY around here wants night racing. I've told to a great number of people, and no one is for the idea."

"But I tell that village suit, Jack Spigel will be coming out soon with a statement that there is nothing legally the village officials can do but we'll be there every night and typical of our village of fools."

David Regner, I've talked to him, and Elsworth Frankles in Rolling Meadows, and they're helping us fight this thing."

BOTH state representatives David Regner, of Mount Prospect, and Eugene Schickman, of Arlington Heights, told The Day Wednesday evening that they were writing letters to Governor Kerner and the Illinois Racing Board expressing their opposition to night racing, as a detriment to the health of the state.

William Frankish, 3007 Golf C, Rolling Meadows is organizing opposition, similar to the one in St. Louis.

ANOTHER Arlington

Height resident making protest, Keith Merck, told The Day that he feels the matter is one of our health, not just the village matters to see if they can do something about it.

"We talked to people all over the area-Ridge Park, the Highlands, Westmont, Sunny Ridge, all over, and nobody wants night racing here."

"Rights now in the people's hands. I think they've got too much power, and the don't care about us, so I don't know if the can be stopped."

No Bread Shortage Developing Here

Restaurants and food stores will not be severely affected during the weekend if the strike of the Bakery Workers Local 734 continues.

The strike against Bakeries that supply the Chicago and Gary areas began yesterday.

DRIVERS for the Continental Baking Co., International Baking Corp., New York Baking Co., and Walter Food Inc. are striking and halting work week and a pay raise.

"We received deliveries today and don't anticipate any problems with our supplies," said Bill Vassan of the Continental Baking Co. George Schwartz, manager of the McDonald's Hamburgers in Mount Prospect, said his business is supplied by an Aurora baking company not involved in the strike.

"We should be able to get the strike would force us to close if we were involved," Schwartz said.

SMALL FOOD stores managers here bought large quantities and are stocked for the weekend.

"I needed a truck and should carry it through the weekend," he said.

PERSONNEL involved in the strike didn't seem to be optimistic about the weekend situation.

"It doesn't look too good. They just can't get together," said an employee of the Continental Baking Co. of the Windsor Bread Co. of the Continental Baking Co. "Everything is shut down," said an employee of Ward Foods.

He said it would take at least 36 hours to get the bread and start deliveries after the strike is settled.

"We are served by two of the striking companies, but I located a supplier and will have 240 additional loaves of white and rye bread. They should carry us through the weekend," he said.

Meadows, Builders Clarify Plans

BY TED LACY

If nothing else was accomplished, at least a couple of things were accomplished concerning the controversial Willow Bend proposal at Wednesday night's Rolling Meadows Planning Commission meeting.

Ray Gosselin, vice president of the Rolling Meadows Planning Commission, representing the Meadows, said that the Willow Bend proposal was a presentation made to the city council meeting Nov. 28.

AFTER a great deal of misunderstanding between the Meadows and city officials, the proposed subdivision was presented to the city council meeting Nov. 28.

But Multicore representative Spencer said that the street is more than sufficiently wide to allow vehicles to pass, even if they were stuck across it.

Who Is More Truly Man?

THE AUTHOR
The Rev. Edward Leland is pastor of St. James Catholic Church in Arlington Heights. He came to this parish in 1961. Before coming to Arlington Heights he was pastor of St. Martin's on the south side of Chicago. He is a graduate of St. Mary of the Lake and was ordained into the priesthood in 1933.

Increasingly more philosophers proclaim that God is dead, that we need a new God. The chief interest of many is not God but man. Their new conception does not leave much of the supernatural, of the Bible or of Christ. Like marching bandmen many of them pause to blow their personal trumpets. Ready to they ask the question: Who has greater awareness?

Thanks be to God many men still believe that God lives; He is life, He is love, and man is the masterpiece of His creation. Baptized man is a child of God, and heir of heaven. Man is obliged to "love God above all things, and to love his neighbor as himself." He hears God's challenge: "If you love Me, you will keep my commandments."

Philosophers who do not hesitate to do a face-lifting job on God could hardly be content with man as God made him. For them man is no longer the puppet and the slave of God, he is the supreme Lord of all the world. But for all his exalted position, he is a bedraggled figure. Physical evil, sickness and death, are his supreme miseries. He is a highly vulnerable man who must sink through life, a man of ill health, a man on the head of a cork of a gun which would utterly destroy him and his happiness.

WHO HAS GREATER AWARENESS? The marching, singing boy-scout? The Fisherman? The butcher? The naturalist? The poet? The plastic surgeon? The philosopher? The scientist? The athlete? The animal, the bird, the stream? And who of the quiet, gentle, enduring guardian of the mountain? The philosophical skeptic surges may his carnal eyes fondly over the product of his surgery. Certainly no one can, least of all the philosopher who is blind in spirit.

The man who has no littleness created (puppet and slave of God) is not a Christian man; he is not any kind of man. He started out as a man, a creature of God, and he would be by utterly denying the image of God.

The God of the Christian is not a God from whom a reasonable man would recoil in horror; rather his God is a being to enthrall the heart of man, whose ineffable nature is divine mystery, whose love and heart of Father, doctors and theologians down the centuries; who is the inspiration of the saints, the comfort of the martyr, the purity of the virgin, the charity of all men. This was the God, this the living God from whom Mary's womb to die for us. We must not think of God as more abundant life. Such a God is well worth the sacrifice.

The man might glimpse of the limited perfection of God given to us men is to be had in the picture of the divine child in the form, but there is still the perfection of human nature along with its inevitable limitations, but there is the unfathomable grace of the boundless source of all perfection. The perfection of all creation are to be found in their creature's entirety. He is the cause of them all, they exist in Him eternally. When we see in the world of existence, of beauty, of goodness, of grace and all the rest is had from God who is overflowing with perfection. These creatures then, participate in the perfection of God. The strength of the storm at sea, the innocence of a child, the calm of a country twilight should stir us to the depths of our being for these are shadows of divinity pointing by.

TO SPEAK OF THE GOODNESS OF GOD in the name of sacrificelessness is to divorce the discussion from reality, as well as to flatter it distastefully. But, effect, imperfectly have nothing desirable about them, because there is nothing real about them. But when the cause of all reality, the perfect being, is the highest goodness for He is the most real being. Not that He has goodness rather He is goodness, as He is reality. On His goodness all other goodness is modeled. From His goodness all other goodness proceeds. In this conception there is a mystery that transforms the earth.

In our day, it is the crisis of loyalty, the crisis of an ethic. But today, on the increasingly alarming scale, races are being forced to meet another race, the crisis of choice. Mrs. Kelly responsible and with wide open must choose to carve out his destiny, a personal destiny that can never end. Such a choice recognizes the dignity of man's personality, its eternal vital value. And God offers man His grace and the courage to select the way of God and His law, and the courage to live up to the truth he admits.

SLIMBERING WITHIN US are mighty forces which could be unleashed in man's will. Our faith, our hope, our love will accomplish marvels if only it is decided to do so. Worldly men put us on the shore with the amazing accomplishments. For us to accomplish more amazing things in the spiritual order we must place at God's disposal a strong human will, that's grace will be sufficient for us. Our commitment to work and to struggle, confidently, courageously, joyfully, identifying ourselves heavenly goal, not closer, but with the leadership, the strength of Christ Our Cyprian. He bestows us the grace of His ineffable sufficiency, we must desire, really desire to live according to the will of God. We must realize our high dignity of Christians, we are led by the spirit of God. Our dignity must be reflected by our activity. We are not children of darkness, but children of light. God teaches us to use our endowments with humility and gratitude, because they are His most precious gifts to us. God dwells within us. We have a heavenly Father, Christ, the Son of God, a our Savior Brother. Heavens and happiness are our inheritance.

If it should be true that there is a heaven, a God, on the farther side: if it should be true that for all men, rich or poor, this life is a vale of tears, if, finally, it should be true that to have one's cross for God and to work with all one's might for harmony in human relations seems so heavy and our union with God, who lives to joy, light and peace, the Christian or the unbeliever? And who is more truly man?

Scout's View of Big Night

A Rewarding, Wonderful Experience

BY DONNA BRONKOWSKI

It was a wonderful evening—the night Senior Girl Scout Troop 666 was invited to the potluck dinner at Trinity Lutheran Church in Des Plaines to meet Daphne Tabor, Miss Tabor's "Duffy" as we love to call her, is a member of the National Staff of Girl Scouts and is one of our national figures.

About 150 girls in green cadets and scout suits from our local suburbs and also Winnetka, Winnetka and La Grange, enjoyed several helpings of homemade dishes. Then at 7 p.m. we met our honored guest.

Miss Tabor gave us a most rewarding hour and a half telling us about the Piper Project. She said to us that the purpose of this movement is to watch over Girl Scouters so that (1) no Girl Scout troop will ever be disbanded for lack of leadership, (2) there will be an increase in girls trying up from Brownie to Junior, and (3) the troops will have an adequate number of girls. (4) there will be troops organized in less developed areas.

Miss Tabor's motto is "a rolling pipe goes where no one can follow." It is a wonder how such a petite woman could carry enough will to keep 150 girls in stitches. We—Debbie

Sullivan, Kathy Nordlie, Clare Harman and I went home with many jokes. After her talk, Miss Tabor led us in a few familiar Girl Scout songs including the lovely "Piper Song."

Throughout her speech she gave us a great feeling of fulfillment in telling us that GIRL SCOUTS COUNT! I guess we have always been proud to be Girl Scouts, but have been a little selfish in keeping this feeling to ourselves. It's now time to come out of our shells and say to any girl, "Want to have some fun? Come join us!" She said, "Between Public Relations and Girl Scouting, there is much too big a gap. Out of all the teenagers in the United States the 1 per cent MINORITY of problem children are the most who get the publicity making the other 99 per cent MAJORITY of good, clean-cut kids like you, it makes me sick to my belly!"

At 8:30 p.m. unfortunately we had to end a quiet, Duffy concluded by putting on her Piper hat. Then she picked up her little flute and played the "Piper Song"; after this we gave her a standing ovation. It was the end of a perfect evening. Every one of us walked out with these words on the tips of our tongues, "Come follow me, follow, follow me all of the way—up and away."

Alpha Xi Delta Workshop

The Alpha Xi Delta Chicago north area alumnae will meet Wednesday Dec. 13 at 8 p.m. in the Carriage Room of the Drake Federal Home, 625 Bush Highway, Park Ridge. Work for Christmas Center will be done and a Christmas party will be held. Each member attending is asked to bring a $1 grab bag gift, seniors and Betty Crocker coupon.

Mrs. J. Overby of Chicago and Mrs. James Lamont of Park Ridge will be hosts. The workshop will be hosted by Mrs. J. Overby.

Cage Consensus

What Mustang has been to Kalam, the Day Cage Consensus, shall be to the Day Grid Consensus.

WE WOULD have started our cage prediction earlier, except that our team have been playing foreign teams, and we wouldn't know anything about them. Ordinarily we wouldn't let a minor thing like absolute ignorance stop us, but we need the exhibition games to get into shape anyway. A cage consensus needs strong legs, because all predictions must be made while hopping around.

Any foolhardy fan who would like to compare with the Day Cage Consensus is hereby invited to do so.

Lions to Tackle Maine South

STARTING TIME for the varsity will be 7:30 p.m. Maine is led by 6-4, 245-pound Dave Lyons, who made all-state in football and who led his team to a 10-0 record under the banner, "Be in the shape you want to work on."

Coach Ed Wainwright, "He's big and he's strong."

has been given the honorable job of trying to stop the main event. Lyons was matched against high-scorer Barry Haines of Notre Dame last week. Lyons held the 6-4, 245-pounder in a 10-0 victory and will at team have a 10-0 record on this line.

"He did a fine job on Notre Dame's 161 lb. man."

Three Wrestling Squads In Quad Action Saturday

Three area wrestling squads face quadrangular meets this weekend as they battle for the varsity level. The Ed Sullivan team will be involved in a dual.

In dual action Saturday, Arlington will be at Provincetown with Elgin and Morton West as well as the host team. Prospect will be at West Leyden with Deerfield and Niles West and Wheeling will be at Niles East with New Trier West and Glenbrook South.

In DUAL meets tonight, Forest will be at Addison Trail at 7 p.m., Arlington Wheeling at 7:30 and Prospect at 8 p.m.

Arlington Coach Bill Meyer picks Provincetown West as "by far" the team to beat Saturday. "They'll probably be toughest at 103, 120 and 127 pounds," Meyer said. "We'll be paired against them at 103."

The Carle Kelly Reid will be in action and won't be able to wrestle. He is expected to be in his place. Prospect filled in for Reid against Glenbrook South and came through with a 4-1 win.

Prospect Coach Dave Zarnik has judged his lineup for the West Leyden try, which starts at noon.

Ready Cardew, who wrestled against Willowbrook and played line men, sat out the Maine South match.

Starting time for the jayvee warmup will be 7 p.m.

THE GREENS go into this one off at 7:45 p.m. For one last week and for once won't have a touring opponent.

Elk Grove averages just 6-2 across the front line—a handicap when dealing with 6-6 and 6-8 men upended last week by high school squads these days. But the Vikings have no one up preaching that size. The Commodores actually will have a height advantage over Palatine which averages 5-8.

Just hope that doesn't make an overreaction," said EG Coach Bob Kees.

Palatine likely will meet with 5-11 Phil Donahue and 6-0 sophomore Dave Harbuck at the forwards with 6-2 George Gowen at center.

Brian Schell, a six-footer who saw limited action against St.

will back at 112 pounds. Chuck Haynes, up from the jayvee level, was his first start. Bruce Bane and Mike Herold, both of whom were 113 and 120 pounds last week, will be the 120 and 130 lb. for the varsity.

Cardew and the Wildcats tonight at Wheeling, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"THEY LACK experience in general," said Meyer of the Cats, "but they'll come out strong. We know that (Thad) Mikols and Scholten are good." He has at this time we're a little bit stronger than they are."

Schulz predicted a good "We'll give them a pretty good go," said adding that the competition probably won't be as strong between 112 and 154 pounds.

"We'll be much better against them than we were last week," said Deerfield and Niles West.

Grens Battle Pirates Seeking 2nd Straight

Victor last week, who may get a chance to play.

Mike Yamamura, a 6-3 junior, probably will see some playing time as well.

IN THE BACKCOURT, Palatine will go with 5-9 Scott Smith and 5-10 Wayne Longshore.

EG Coach and Gowen are the only seniors.

Elk Grove will have 6-3 Joe Kalick and 6-1 Frank Schell at the forwards with 6-2 Jim Ditt at center. The guard will be Tom Pomey and John Yang.

"We feel that Palatine has good go," said adding that the competition probably won't be as strong between 112 and 154 pounds.

3 From Area On Illinois Gymnast Squad

Three area athletes are on the roster of the 1968 University of Illinois varsity gymnastics team.

Don Coon, a Wheeling athlete, and Bob Boone, from Forest, will be with the squad in its first meet of the season against Indiana State at Champaign Saturday.

Wainwright said, "I don't see any other team doing it again against him."

The Lions used a collaring neck at times against Haines last week and will be obliged to employ the same strategy against Maine. If they do, Bane could find himself in a bind, but that's the only thing up for the Hawks' college man-forward Gary Long, 6-6, and Jim Schell, 6-1, and guards Tom McClellan and Andy Mait.

AGAINST THEIR all-star quest, Victor will throw a team which has only one senior—Vince Malone, 6-5, High individual game (handicap): George Meyer, 494. High individual game (handicap): George Meyer, 494. High individual game (handicap): George Meyer, 494.

Prospect will be at West Leyden with Deerfield and Niles West and Wheeling will be at Niles East with New Trier West and Glenbrook South.
